

2. Do you believe the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) should be involved in setting rates, fees and charges for unregulated electric cooperatives that are governed by their consumers (members) through a member-elected Board of Directors?

Miller: No.

Falk: Depends. Our local electric cooperative locked us into some really expensive coal contracts that are only going to get more expensive. Perhaps there should have been more review before signing those long-term agreements.